

About the 2010 National ICT Career Week

National ICT Careers Week will be running across the country from 26 July to 1 August 2010, with events and activities being presented by businesses, educational institutions, government agencies, industry bodies, women's groups and professional bodies.

National ICT Careers Week has been designed to showcase the opportunities available to young people in information and communications technology. We want to introduce young people to the rewarding and engaging career opportunities available across Australia and in the world.

Our messages to young people, parents, teachers and others

- ICT is a great job earning great money with a great lifestyle
- ICT is a truly global career – your work in ICT can take you round the world
- ICT – be a part of the solution for climate change
- ICT means meeting people and working with people to solve problems and make changes
- ICT is entertainment > movies, music, games, animation and fashion
- ICT is truly a large part of our daily lives

During the ICT Careers Week, organisations will host events and activities promoting the benefits of ICT studies for school students, and of careers in ICT for graduates.

They will be staging various activities, promotion and marketing initiatives, functions and events, study and career information. Some will be demonstrating cutting-edge technology in areas ranging from climate change solutions, state-of-the-art security applications, space technologies, medical robotics and artificial intelligence to animation, entertainment and fashion.

National ICT Careers Week is an initiative of the ICT Industry Leadership Group, and is being managed by the Australian Information Industry Association and the Australian Computer Society.
