Getting interest in ICT study and work

ICT creates opportunities for entertainment for everyone - ICT is not just computers, keyboards and printers. ICT is mobile phones, tablets and email, the Internet, YouTube, Facebook, iPods, Twitter, interactive games, online shopping, social networking. And just think all of the new things that ICT will introduce into our lives in the future - the potential is unlimited!

Entertainment technologies have spawned the creation of many new occupations for creative students with computer skills. Young people can join the world of entertainment with ICT qualifications - this means opportunities to invest and to connect with new friends.

Using Facebook to promote your ICT Careers Week activities

We have a National ICT Careers Week Facebook page to help market the events and activities to young people and their friends (and maybe also their parents and teachers). We encourage you to list your events and activities and to use your followers to make many more aware of what you are doing for National ICT Careers Week. Just search Facebook using 'National ICT Careers Week'.

Help to encourage your contacts to participate

Please use your networks to encourage more organisations to participate in this year's National ICT Career Week.
